(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO July 23 —(UP)—Harold Pomeroy, new state relief administrator believes that a co-operative plan of relief administration between the counties and the state can be made effective within the next three months.

The plan, as originally proposed by Governor Frank F. Merriam, drew considerable opposition from county boards of supervisors, but the governor answered the principal argument when he agreed to set up relief funds in his 1937-39 budget.

Pomeroy said he believed the three largest counties—Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda—would agree to the proposal in the near future. Twenty counties reportedly have agreed to the proposal, and in 24 other counties there is no need for direct relief at the present time, officials said.

The plan includes financing by the state, administration by the counties with SRA to act in an advisory capacity.

Several new attacks against E. H. Christian, president of the state personnel board, based on accusations that he continues to "play politics" with the state civil service setup, have developed recently.

Officials of the State Employees' association plan to protest to Gov. Merriam as do representatives of the California League of Women Voters.

A temporary restraining order attacking the constitutionality of the state agricultural act and temporarily halting the federal tuberculosis testing of cattle in Yolo county has been made returnable here July 24 before Evan Hughes, master in chancery.

The action was brought by the dairymen's union which is leading the fight against compulsory tuberculosis testing.

Sacramento could hardly have been called the state capitol recently. Of all the elective officers and departmental heads with offices here, only two were on the job. They were A. A. Brock, director of agriculture, and Mrs. Florence Turner, director of social welfare. All other officials were in various parts of the state, presumably on "official business."

A "satisfactory" 1936 fruit and nut crop is forecast for California by the federal-state crop reporting service. Unseasonal rains did little damage except to cherries, but necessitated additional dusting of grapes to check detrimental development of mildew.

DEER STRUCK BY TRAIN NEAR TOWN

A Southern Pacific train struck a deer near Truckee on Monday and in consequence the patients at the Nevada County Hospital will dine on venison for several days.

Game Warden Earl Hiscox was notified by the Southern Pacific and came and took charge of the deer. Officer Hiscox reported that the huge deer received a broken neck injury only and that it dressed 160 pounds without hide.

FRANCE'S "MUSSOLINI"

Danger of a Fascist coup such as overtook Italy 14 years ago when Mussolini's Blackshirts marched on Rome, menaced strikers in France, Colonel De la Roquette, often called the potential "Mussolini of France," who claims 700,000 followers in his Croix de Feu, and 100,000 in similar Fascist leagues (shown in this photograph) has issued warning that he and his followers are ready for a "decisive assault on the heights of power."

MISSING TAHOAN IS FOUND DEAD

Cowboy Discovers Body Of Man Sought For Week; Leg Was Broken

The body of Walter Holland, 61-year-old Homewood caretaker, missing since July 8th, was found Friday, face down, in a pool of water in General Creek.

The discovery was made by Robert Skates, a cowboy, one of a mounted posse which joined in the search Thursday under the direction of Deputy Sheriff Carl Bechtold and Constable Harry Johanson.

Skates said the body was found in an area that had been searched by Civilian Conservation Corps recruits and others.

Holland had a fracture of one leg above the knee and presumably fell into the pool while attempting to obtain water.

The body was taken to the W. H. Laity Undertaking Parlors in Truckee and Deputy Coroner George Bliss was notified.

Cowboys from the Bechtold-Johanson posse left for the wilderness area to recall other parties of searchers.

Holland, who maintained a permanent residence at the Hotel Gordon, San Francisco, had been the object of an intensive search since July 9th, when it was determined he had not returned from his fishing trip. Scores of searchers combed the wilds of the General Creek and Rubicon Springs regions.

The Crown-Willamette Paper Co. state that these men are not in the employ of the company and do not conduct a company store. Tucori rented the building in which the still was found from the company and conducted a store for himself.

FARLEY DEPLORES ISSUE IN CONTEST

Democratic Head Pledges Party Efforts To Remain Free From 'Such Intolerance'

Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley said he deplored the injection of racial and religious issues into the campaign and pledged the Democratic efforts to remain free from "such intolerance."

Commenting upon the declaration of the Republican National Chairman, John D. M. Hamilton last week—in which Hamilton charged the Democrats with fostering rumors and reports that he was anti-Semitic—Farley said that he wanted to have "one last word" on the subject.

"That is not the way we run a campaign," the Democratic chairman said. "We don't do things that way. I'm not responsible for such charges that will probably appear frequently in the course of the campaign."

"In all my public career, I have tried to play the game fairly. We will not be responsible, for anything of such a nature as stooping to inject racial and religious issues into this campaign. That is my attitude and it will be the attitude of the Democratic Party."

The national chairman said he would not, at any time, take any cognizance of personal attacks made against him in the campaign.

LUMBER TRUCK DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire destroyed a truck and a small amount of lumber and consumed a few feet of brush at Lake Tahoe near Incline at eight o'clock Friday morning but courageous action on the part of Harry Shaw, the driver, prevented what might have been a serious forest blaze, rangers reported.

Shaw was driving his truck, loaded with lumber, along the highway about one-half mile from Sand Harbor, three miles from the Incline camp. He noticed flames leaping out from the truck under his seat. Efforts to extinguish the blaze failed, and he attempted to roll the load off the truck.

Part of the timber had been removed before the gasoline tank exploded, and in the meantime motorists had informed rangers at Incline of the incident. They rushed to the scene with a pumper and extinguished the blaze, then, aided by transient workers put out sparks which had scattered into the underbrush.

The truck was the property of the Truckee-Tahoe Lumber Company and the shipment of lumber was to have been taken to Zephyr Cove.

WORK SPEEDED ON VERDI HIGHWAY

Automobile traffic on the highway between Reno and Verdi is experiencing considerable difficulty now a few miles west of Reno in the Chalk Bluff district, where contractors are rebuilding the road.

In addition to constructing a long retaining wall on the bluff above the railroad tracks, the contractors are blasting out part of the bluff to widen and straighten the road.

The new road, which will extend from the new underpass to Lawton Springs and later to the state line, will be wider and the sharp curves will be eliminated, according to the plans.

The South Verdi road, which crosses the Truckee river at the electric light bridge and continues west and recrosses the river at the Mayberry bridge, is being used now by many motorists to avoid the section where the construction work is in progress and where traffic is delayed at times.

FOREST SERVICE ASK FIRE ORDINANCE

The Nevada County Supervisors will be asked by U. S. Forest Service officials to pass a fire prevention ordinance covering private and state lands outside the boundaries of the National forests, according to Forest Service officials.

B. C. Goldsmith, in charge of fire prevention, has secured copies of an ordinance recently adopted by Placer county at the request of the forest service, and with a few minor changes will offer it to the Nevada County Board of Supervisors.

The ordinance would seek to curb the many fires started on private lands by careless owners, and on state and private lands by snipers and careless summer residents. It would provide for the construction of fire breaks near places of abode to eliminate the danger of fires spreading to forests from cabins and dwellings catching fire or camp fires spreading after not being thoroughly extinguished.

Building of hazardous fires would also be curbed since the loss each year is large from this source alone. Building of fires within forests near inflammable materials and without properly clearing away leaves, pine needles and other materials likely to cause a fire to spread would constitute a misdemeanor under the proposed ordinance.

The section regarding smoking in the national forests would also be embraced in the ordinance, thus providing rules of ordinary safety for areas of forest land not inside the government jurisdiction.

SNOW SHED LOST BY FIRE AT TROY

Forestry Men and Equipment Aid Railroad Employees In Fighting Hot Blaze.

Fire broke out in the snow sheds on the Southern Pacific Co. near Troy on Friday night and 700 feet of triple track sheds were burned before the fire was extinguished.

The fire was reported about 7:20 on Friday night and was reported by radio from an airplane passing over at the time. The Forestry Service was notified and immediately responded to the alarm. The Southern Pacific sent crews to the scene and 2 fire trains from Norden fought the fire from the east end while one fire train from Emigrant Gap fought the fire from the west end. About 700 feet of triple track sheds burned but outside of a few spot fires that got into the woods, the forestry service and CCC fire fighters kept the blaze under control.

The heat was so intense that the rails on all three tracks were warped out of shape and service could not be resumed until one of the tracks was replaced at which time one way traffic was resumed. Trains were tied up from 7:30 in the evening until about 4 a. m. the next morning.

For a time fire threatened the wires of the Western Union Telegraph and the Southern Pacific which parallel the tracks. Several poles caught fire but were extinguished by the forestry crew.

Old Buildings Destroyed By Fire Sunday Night

Two old buildings near the slaughter house on the Brockway road were destroyed by fire on Sunday night about 11:30 o'clock.

The buildings were unoccupied and the cause of the fire is unknown. When discovered the buildings were a mass of flames and during the fire several explosions occurred.

The Volunteer Fire Department responded to the alarm and received the assistance of the Forest Rangers.

ESPIONAGE

Conviction of Henry Thomas Thompson on espionage charges carries with it an odium such as is attached to few crimes, in the opinion of California editors.

The former navy yeoman may well consider his 15-year sentence as mild, it was agreed, when the tendency of other nations in the punishment of traitors is considered.

"Judas Iscariot," said the Gilroy Dispatch, "perpetrated The Great Betrayal for thirty pieces of silver—and Harry Thomas Thompson betrayed his shipmates and his entire U. S. Navy for $200 a month. It seems incredible that a man even willing to spy on his own country would do it for such a paltry wage. One perhaps would have a little bit of understanding if Thompson had sold out his Navy for say $2,000 a month.

"The judge," notes the Monterey Peninsula Herald, "might have given 20 years under the law, but was lenient, considering the youth of the defendant and the theory, not a fact that, that Thompson was not of 'the criminal type.' This youth who was paid to betray his country, not of 'the criminal type,' showed no emotion when the sentence was imposed. In a federal penitentiary this young man will learn that 'criminal types' will consider him lower even than they are. His life will not be easy among them, perhaps not long."

"Yet the fifteen years," points out the Santa Cruz News, "is ample—fifteen years of detestation by the lowest and most abandoned of his fellow prisoners; fifteen years of their refusal to speak to an American who would sell out his country; fifteen years of being shunned, of banishment from the ball field and other prison sports; fifteen years of reflection, night and day, of the horror of being a marked man who never can look the world in the face again."

"That every American must be on guard against insidious enemies of their country and their own security," comments the Porterville Recorder, "is a realization brought home to all good citizens by revelations of espionage in the Pacific base of the nation's fleet. Charges involved a former petty officer of the United States navy and a high naval officer of Japan. The American has been sentenced to 15 years in prison, and the Japanese has escaped the clutches of the law. Evidence thus far outlined in this case is sufficient to strengthen suspicions that Japan maintains a widespread spy system on this coast, and that the fishing fleet, now largely in Japanese hands, is one of the agencies thus employed."

"If the Japanese are conducting an extensive espionage system in this country," remarks the Inglewood Daily News, "and if their vessels are in southern Pacific waters, these facts ought to be made known, so that we in America would know how to regard the Japanese people—as friends or enemies. Spying on friendly nations is to those nations what wire tapping or 'stoopigeoning' is to individuals. Both are reprehensible, and the penalty ought to be made to suit the crime. As for Harry Thomas Thompson, he was treated very mildly indeed for the nature of his offense."

"The actual damage done by Thompson, in betraying what secrets he was able to get hold of," in the opinion of the Placerville Republican, "probably does not amount to much for he was never in a position to know very much of what was going on. This is reassuring to the nation generally but can in no wise be interpreted as mitigating the circumstances of his betrayal. The only reason he didn't commit a greater betrayal was that he couldn't get the information."

THE FORGOTTEN WOMAN

Probably never before in the history of any nation have "career women" been so active in government and politics as they are in America today.

From the turbulent political front comes news that both major parties have promised women equal consideration with men in appointments to Federal and state jobs. Already we have women cabinet members, women Representatives and Senators, women diplomats, and women judges.

Few quarrel with this idea. But, lest the spectacular aspects of it warp our perspective, it is time someone spoke a word for the 'forgotten woman'—the woman who sustains the home, who cooks and sews and gives her life to children.

It is she who exerts the really profound influence on government and politics.

As buyer for the family, she purchases more than any other member. Buying most, she is the heaviest taxpayer. Her vote is a constant threat to politicians who would heap taxes on necessities.

Largely through protest of housewives of California who felt the drain on the family budget, direct taxes were removed from food. A new, indirect levy on food looms today in the form of a tax on group stores, which naturally would be paid out of family budgets. It is no trick at all to guess what the California housewives' vote will do to this new threat in November.

But it is not her vote alone which gives the forgotten woman greater influence than "career women" in politics and government. After all, who is it who is shaping the minds and habits and characters of the presidents, congressmen, and judges of tomorrow? Who but the women devoting their lives to the children of today?

VOICES OF THE NIGHT

I remember hearing one night a sound that has ever since haunted my memory. Twenty feet above the ground I was at the time, on a platform that I had built among the branches of a long-leaf pine in order to make observations on wild life at night.

After having waited an hour or more, I heard something brush sedulously through a green myrtle. Then into the patch of sand below me walked three deer. So quiet, so shadowy, so vividly unreal they were that they might easily have been taken for spirits. Indeed, one of the wonders of the night is the artless delicacy, the felicitous stillness with which wild creatures travel the country of the silvery shadows. Deer have a fairy way of gliding along, of floating over obstacles, of crossing moonlit stretches of country with a certain beautiful stealth that has upon it the bloom of magic.

Wary wanderers were these three, a buck and two doe. One doe was behind, and as she turned her beautiful head, she seemed listening to something in the bushes which she had just come. She lowered her head. I heard her bleat softly. She was answered by one of the most pathetic and appealing sounds in all nature—the bleating of a little fawn. A bush across the path had probably delayed it; but now into the clear moonlight it stole up to its mother's side. She nuzzled it with tenderest affection. And the call of the little fawn I shall always remember as the sweetest and gentlest voice of the night that I ever heard.

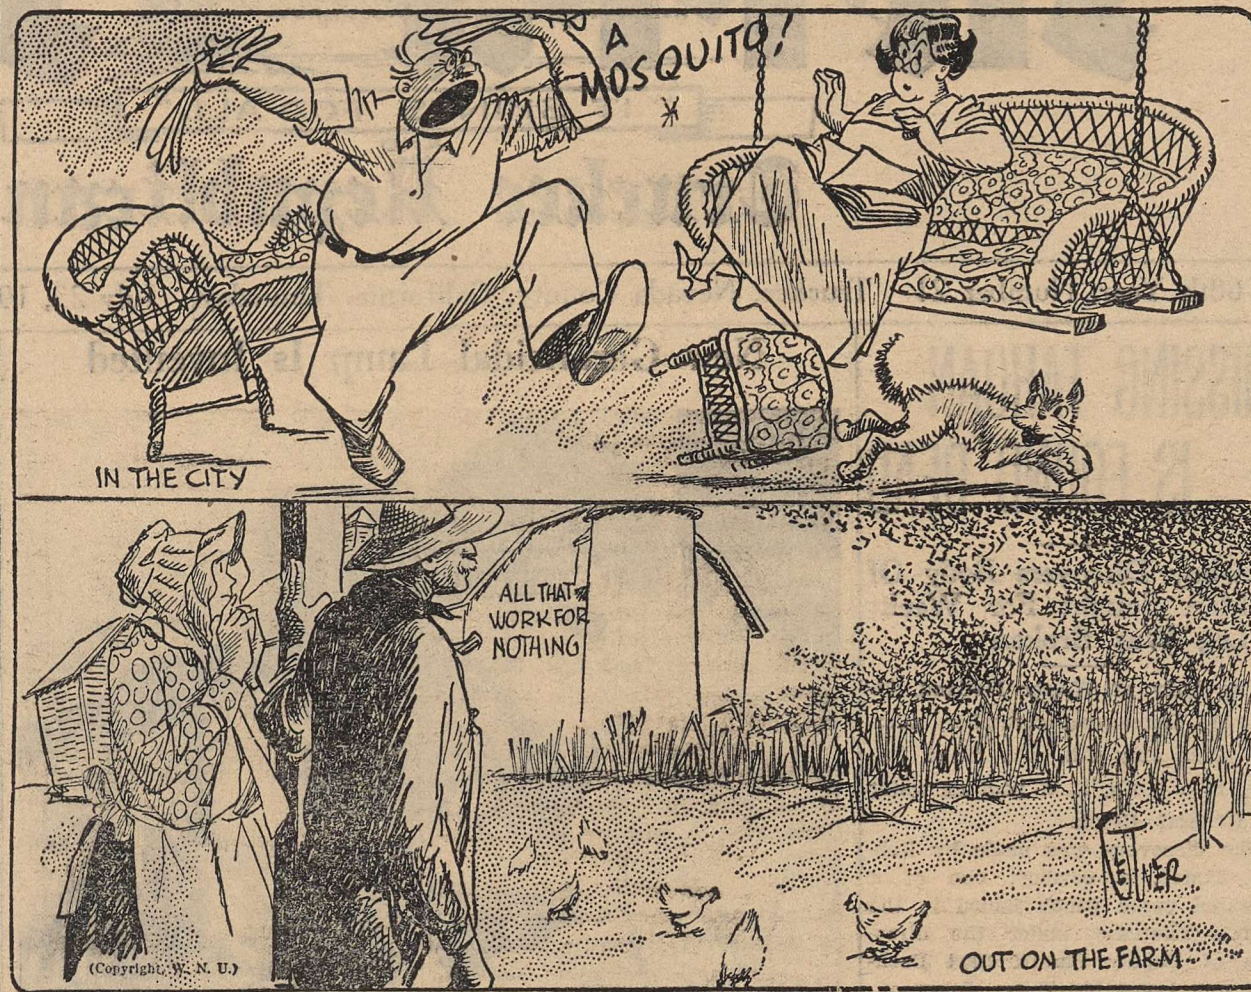

As quietly as the deer had come they vanished. And now high over the pines I heard the thin sweet music of wild duck's wings. They were speeding toward the delta, under the stars. Later I heard a wildcat scream. It cried only once. Once is enough. The bay-lynx is one of the most craftily silent of all living things; but when it does shriek, the sound is terrible and memorable.

And then two horned owls began one of their amazing conversations. The note of these birds has something about it singularly melancholy. Its charm lies chiefly in its remote and baffling quality. I shall try to give a fragment of this weird gossiping:

"Hoot-a-loot, hoot-a-loot," says one owl, with a touch of infinite tenderness.

"Loot, hoot-a-loot," answers the other gently.

Insects

were hot from the start," Tuttle added, "and now with Los Angeles and Portland getting into the penant scramble, attendance in those cities is showing a big improvement."

San Francisco. George Stout, state liquor administrator, was in Rhode Island attending a liquor conference.

Considering the fact that this is not an election year for state fiscal officers, the exodus was somewhat greater than the usual summer dash for ocean breezes.

At one of the out of town meetings—the personnel board fracas in Oakland—considerable sharpshooting was aimed at the civil service system, civil service employees in general and Executive Officer William Brownrigg in particular, according to reports which trickled back to the capitol.

Chairman E. H. Christian was on the firing line doing most of the shooting and, as usual, got into an argument with Controller Riley, a member of the personnel board who disagrees with most of Christian's ideas.

One choice exchange: Christian—"The time is long past since I'd ask you for a favor." Riley—"Apparently you don't know when you're through. I'd never ask you for a favor, either."

Riley, upon his return to Sacramento, said the personnel board meetings had "degenerated into dog and cat fights."

Arthur Brown, the other member who attended the Oakland meeting, reportedly was disgusted and indicated that if the next meeting followed the course of the last one, he would offer a motion that "sentiments of the chairman are not concurred in by other members of the board." This threatened open break between Brown and Christian may have far-reaching effects in personnel matters.

Christian announced the next meeting would be in San Diego August 11. When he holds them away from the capitol, he is pretty certain reporters will not be present. Then, too, there are state employees to be heard in Oakland, San Diego, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Recently the board of equalization revoked or denied some 300 liquor licenses in the Los Angeles area. Nearly half of the operators affected applied for hearings, with the result that a liquor referee was to be kept busy daily until July 24 or later.

The referee's recommendations will be submitted to the board when it convenes in Sacramento late this month, and members will have to act again upon the licenses which were appealed.

This process takes little time, however. Ordinarily a board member presents a list of his district licenses upon which he wishes to take action. He makes his recommendation and the board votes, usually with only a brief glance at the list and very little discussion.

More People Attend Ball Games This Year

SACRAMENTO July 23 —(UP)—Attendance at Pacific league baseball games this season is better than it has been in the past four years, according to President W. C. Tuttle.

Tuttle, accompanied by his wife, came to Sacramento to witness the series between the Solons and Missions. League records for the 1936 season already show an increase of more than 200,000 paid customers over the same period a year ago, he said.

SACRAMENTO July 23 —(UP)—The usual midsummer lull struck the capitol building with a vengeance this week when officials sought cooler places for meetings and other reputed affairs of state.

On one day, the only important officials seen in their offices here were A. A. Brock, director of agriculture; Mrs. Florence Turner, director of social welfare; Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state and, belatedly, Charles G. Johnson, state treasurer.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam was in Los Angeles for a week. Controlled Ray L. Riley was in Oakland attending a meeting of the state personnel board. He returned the following day. Finance Director Arlin E. Stockburger, Director of Natural Resources, George Nordenholt, Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly, Superintendent of Public Instruction Vierling Kersey, Director of Military and Veterans Affairs John R. A two day district convocation of the Episcopal Church at Galilee, Lake Tahoe, opened on Sunday with many from all parts of the state attending. The Rev. Thomas Jenkins D. D. bishop of Nevada presided and was one of the principal speakers during the session.

Delegates were present representing all churches in Nevada. The meeting had a larger attendance than any other previous convocation. On Monday evening the Lake Tahoe summer school will open its sessions to continue for two weeks.

Mrs. Roy Vance of the Cottage Grocery of Lake Forest left on Monday for San Francisco where she will visit and recuperate from a sick spell. She will be the guest of Mrs. Perinori. Miss Alice Ziegler of San Francisco has been a guest at the Vance home for two weeks.

A truck loaded with lumber, belonging to the Truckee-Tahoe Lumber Co., met with misfortune on Monday morning about 9 A. M. near Incline on the east shores of the lake, in Nevada, when because of defective wiring, it caught on fire. Harry Shaw the driver escaped unhurt but the truck was destroyed. Most of the lumber was salvaged. Several trees caught fire at the edge of the road but were quickly extinguished, preventing a possible forest fire.

Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver and family of Lake Forest left Tahoe on Sunday for Oakland where Mrs. Oliver hopes to recover her health which has been impaired by the high altitude.

Miss Phyllis Miller was guest of honor at a party on Thursday evening at the home of her mother Mrs. Charles Swanson of Lake Forest. Those enjoying a jolly time, with dancing and late supper were the Misses Eunice Duffee, Marie Miller, Lillian Vernon, and James Wilson, Walter Muller, Armand Swanson, Harry Johanson, Mrs. Joe Duffee, Miss Florence Vernon, Clarence Vernon, Mrs. Swanson, and son Jimmie. Miss Miller received many lovely birthday remembrances from her friends.

The lifeless body of Walt Holland, 65 year old caretaker of the A. C. Slinger home at Homewood was found on Wednesday by Bob Skates, a member of the Tahoe posse, and two companions, seven miles up General Creek at the base of a bluff, face down in the creek. All indications pointed to the fact that the old man had died in agony and had crawled on his hands and knees for some distance to the water. His leg had been broken, and it is believed this occurred a day or so after he had been reported missing. It was eight days after his disappearance before his body was found. Undertaker W. H. Laity of Truckee and Dr. C. B. Pederson of Tahoe who examined the body found no water in the man's lungs but Mr. Laity expressed the opinion he had died of water suffocation and had been dead for at least 30 hours. Privation and exposure had of course, weakened his resistance greatly. In desperation the aged man had kindled fires in the dead pine needles hoping to attract attention to his plight, without avail. When discovered he was lying face down in the creek, where a dark bruise under one eye would indicate he had fallen exhausted.

Lee Hill of the Emerald Bay Ranger station and 20 CCC men from Rubicon Camp were sent out to extinguish the fire left burning above General Creek.

Members of the posse included Constable Harry Johanson of Tahoe, Deputy Sheriff Carl Becholdt Sr., Bob Skates, Tahoe cowboy, and a companion, and Dan Armour, former Pasadena police chief who with his wife was camped at Miller Meadows where the posse made their camp.

Considerable criticism has been voiced around town because of the time which elapsed before help was forthcoming from Placer County authorities. While regrettable that this was so, Constable Johanson declared the cause was due to the fact that consent had first to be secured from the Placer County supervisors at Auburn who had to authorize the expense account. It is hoped that in the future some method may be found to hasten action in order that assistance may be secured while life still remains.

Miss Mildred Watson is spending a two week's vacation at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson in Tahoe City.

Mrs. Murray Smith has left Tahoe for Carson City where she will remain for the balance of the summer season.

Attention is called to the special matinee which will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. at the Tavern Casino. The "Country Doctor" and the Lewis-Schmeling fight pictures will be shown.

Considering how fine this railroad transportation is nowadays, you can't travel any cheaper. Fares lowest in history—substantial savings on round trip tickets. So why not take the train? It's safer. It's more dependable.

You can't beat the improved travel comfort in coaches and sleeping cars. It's a good thing movies don't have such restful seats—most folks would sure fall asleep.

Ever hear about the Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight? It's a great convenience to shippers and receivers alike. Western railroads pick up at the door, ship by fast freight, and deliver to consignee's door.

Railroad trains are running on faster schedules these days. Seems like the iron horse wants to show these new streamlined diesels that he can step out, too. Both passenger and freight schedules have been speeded up.

What's more, the railroads believe in "safety first." Last year not one passenger was killed in a train accident on western railroads.

Talk to your local railroad agent. He's full of information about traveling and shipping.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

"God shall send forth his mercy and his truth." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 26, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson Sermon will be "Truth." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God" (John 3: 20, 21).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "It is false to say that Truth and error commingle in creation. In parable and argument, this falsity is exposed by our Master as self-evidently wrong" (p. 539).

Spring Frosts Damage California Grape Crop

SACRAMENTO July 23 —(UP)—California's 1936 grape crop was estimated at 1,629,000 tons as compared with a total production of 2,194,000 tons the previous year, according to a report of the federal-state crop reporting service. The report, based on conditions as of July 1, placed the anticipated production of wine grapes at 429,000 tons; raisin grapes, 894,000 tons, and table grapes, 306,000 tons.

LATEST IDEA IN BUSES

Patrons of Pacific Greyhound Lines will enjoy new thrills in bus travel when they ride in the latest motorcoach creation. These "super-buses" represent the most recent developments in bus construction. Below is shown one of the fleet of 50 ultra modern coaches recently put in service by Pacific Greyhound Lines. With motor installed in rear, the passenger compartment is insulated from motor noises and vibration and all fumes and exhaust gases are shut out. Above is depicted the interior of the bus with unique seating arrangement for 36 passengers above the level of the six foot high aisle which runs the length of the car. Seats are spaced to provide adequate leg room. Baggage is carried in special compartments, sealed against dust and water, underneath the bus. These buses are exclusive with Greyhound.

Concerning the general condition of the state's grape crop, the report said:

"While indications are for somewhat smaller crops for both wine and table varieties, the greatest decline under last year's crop is indicated for raisin grapes.

"Vineyards over the state generally are in good cultural and moisture condition, the reduced outlook of production being mainly due to spring frost damage. While the summer, to this date, seems to have brought more than the usual amount of relatively high humidity to grape-growing areas, it is not yet indicated that there will be extreme development of grape mildew. However, extra applications of sulphur have been made in many vineyards.

"It also is too early to determine what the development of grape leaf hopper may be, although some reports indicate that these insects seem to be more abundant than a year ago." A summary of the disposition of California grapes, as prepared by the crop service, indicates a steadily increasing flow into wine barrels of the state.

In 1932 the service estimated that 99,000 tons of all types of grapes were crushed, presumably for wine and juice purposes. The following year this tonnage increased to 444,000. In 1934, it jumped to 530,000 tons and last year increased again to total 887,000 tons.

Sowing and Reaping

IN HUMAN experience one must first sow before one can reap, and one reaps what one sows. If one sows pansy seeds in a garden, one does not expect chrysanthemums to appear. Rather does one watch eagerly for the first green of the pansy plant to push its way through the earth, already visioning the velvety flowers to follow. If, on the other hand, weeds are allowed to grow in a garden, what can be expected but a growth of weeds. Therefore, a wise gardener is careful in his sowing and watchful in his weeding.

In Deuteronomy, Moses is recorded as saying (22:9), "Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers seeds: lest the fruit of thy seed which thou hast sown, and the fruit of thy vineyard, be defiled." Even if one is careful in one's selection of seeds, with the first appearance of the dainty plants may come the harmful weeds. Anyone who has done much gardening knows how aggressively the weeds strive to outdo the plants, and what alertness is required to see that the weeding keeps pace with the eager pushing forward of the desired plants.

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 343), "The weeds of mortal mind are not always destroyed by the first uprooting; they reappear, like devastating witch-grass, to choke the coming clover." How we all dislike to see a weed-clogged, overgrown garden! And we realize the work involved before all devastating weeds are cleared out; for, from the time of ripening, their seeds have not only been re-seeding their immediate vicinity, but have also been blowing hither and yon to interfere with the neighbors' gardens. Occasionally, if the weeds are rank on the adjoining property, the one whose garden is clear may be tempted to be annoyed, and even to feel that punishment should come to those responsible for letting the weeds scatter their seeds. But immediately comes the realization that if any weeds have been left in one's own garden, they may be blowing over the fence to someone else's flower bed. The wise plan is to keep up one's own weeding, and then guard in every way against the possible encroachment of weeds from without. Sometimes the weeds are so nearly like the plant or flower that one fails to recognize them at first glance, and care is required not to pull up the plant.

If we liken the seeds in our gardens to the mental qualities that we encounter in our everyday experience, we find hypocrisy claiming to be almost identical with the lovely flower of consecration. Deceit and dishonesty, envy and jealousy are poisonous if one lets them in, as also are apathy and indifference. The noxious weeds of revenge and retaliation, and the rank growth of hatred would kill whatever comes within their range. So, we must be ever-watchful that we pull up the rank growth of mortal mind in order that the lovely flowers of unselfishness, happiness, fidelity, co-operation, unity, and peace may not be crowded out. As are our individual mental gardens, so are the mental gardens of the nations and of the whole world affected. What joy will come when all mankind learns this glorious lesson of right thinking!

Sometimes, as one sees error flaunting itself in the world around us, evil may appear to become more firmly entrenched, and one is tempted to believe that power lies in erroneous thinking; but what error sows will be reaped in tears. Evil attempts to plant what ends in remorse which only the truth can wipe out. Why waste a moment worrying for fear error should have its own way? Why ever be tempted to want to avenge a wrong? If one has been sowing forgiveness all the time, he will soon be reaping such gardens of loveliness that only compassion can be felt for the blindness of those who would not see. Mrs. Eddy writes in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 228), "To know that a deception dark as it is base has been practised upon thee,—by those deemed at least indebted friends whose welfare thou hast promoted,—and yet not to hasten thyself, is to do good to thyself."

There are no flowers so lovely as the mental-flowers which grow in a garden of gratitude and forgiveness. When one can actually send forth love and can desire to see another who has injured him go forward the very founts of love are unlocked for him.

What wonderful things will happen among nations and peoples when they can sow and reap in this worthwhile way; when individuals and nations learn to watch for and dispose of the unlovely weeds that fringe the highways and byways of international co-operation, and work together for the good of all. World peace will then be assured, and hideous, revengeful war, with all its terrors, will disappear into nothingness. Let us sow the lovely things of God, that we may reap them.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Prepare Safety Program For Schools In Fall

SACRAMENTO July 23 —(UP)—Preparations for a high school and junior college course in "traffic safety" will be completed this fall by the state department of education, it was announced by officials here.

Introduction of the new course of study, presented in an attempt to make California highways less dangerous, will be made as a result of two years of study by a special committee on safety education.

"This course will be predicated on three principles," the department announced. "First, that safe operation of motor vehicles is founded on regulations; second, the development of a general safety consciousness on the part of all people which will be the basis of control of the conduct of those individuals who, although they have the opportunity to 'take chances,' refrain from doing so because they prefer to the safe, and third, a continuing program of education inasmuch as people are informed they develop habits and form judgments conforming to the information they receive."

The announcement pointed out that the course will be based on the contention that traffic safety can be accomplished only if all persons involved obey the rules of the road.

"The course also indicates the nature and use of the various safety mechanisms of motor cars," the department reported. "Several chapters are devoted to attitudes and habits in connection with the safe operation of motor vehicles of all types.

"A careful study has been made of the whole field of 'rights'—the rights of the driver, of the pedestrian and all other legitimate users of the highways.

Employees Federation Would Increase Civil Service Scope

SACRAMENTO July 23 —(UP)—All government employees except bureau heads who direct the administration's, policies would be placed under civil service, if recommendations of the California State Federation of Federal Employees become law.

Resolutions adopted by the federation in annual convention here urged the inclusion under civil service of federal attorneys, postmasters, marshals, WPA and HOLC administrators, and workers in other branches of the government. Bills embodying such provisions were defeated at the last session of congress.

The federation selected Los Angeles as the 1937 convention city and named the following officers: Raymond W. Saxton, Coronado, president; Albert L. Davis, Los Angeles, first vice president; H. D. Munton, Livermore, second vice president, and John Schurr, Oakland, secretary-treasurer.
